

Golf Franchise Business

The full package that Guarantees your career as a Successful Golf Coach

Our systems are designed for the individual who is self motivated and independent; however some like their success totally guaranteed and everyone is always looking for great value.

The full package includes all our trainings necessary to attain the high standards required to become an outstanding coach as well as being capable of delivering the WGTF Level 3 Diploma Certification course. Whether you want to become an outstanding coach or set up your own business, training golfers to become coaches this package offers you the incredible value needed to guarantee your success in the market place. It includes the personal attention of Peter Hudson when required. We believe you can reach these standards if you possess the correct motivation and determination.

Taking advantage of the full package supplies you with all the essential equipment from day one and supports you totally for a minimum of three years in your endeavours to attend any training, reaching the benchmarks required. This format allows you to attend all of these trainings, as often as you like until you fully understand each subject and are fully capable of demonstrating your outstanding coaching skills.

The marketing package is not only designed to support you, but specifically help find you a place to coach and 'the marketing know how' to grow your business rapidly. It includes specific marketing programmes; phone advice and three days support in the field. The marketing package also includes a detailed web presence on our main web site when you have attained all of the qualifications. This investment is a classic example of the tremendous value for money that all coaching services should offer and is a mark of the faith we have in your ability to succeed.