

Recommended Coach Certification 1-day

Why should you attend certification day?

You will have completed all the recommended coach trainings or believe you have the necessary skills to become an outstanding coach willing to guarantee your clients success.

What will have to happen for you to qualify?

We can never guarantee anyone will be successfully in passing their final certification process but when you have passed all our recommended coaching certifications it is presumed you have the skills to qualify. These are the requirements to assist you: -

Recommended Coach Certification requirements.

Annual adherence to outside qualifications, CPD programme and coaching log.

Agree to offer services within WGTF Customer Charter or complete your own customer charter for your specific niche.

A complete operational understanding of the Inner game, Golfing Machine and the ability to demonstrate their effective use.

Ability to recognise and advise clients correctly regarding club fitting.

A complete understanding and the ability to demonstrate correct fault and fixing, especially with regard to teaching aids.

Complete the diploma teaching examination to a high specification.

Demonstrate an understanding of quality marketing and a policy of action.

Demonstrate an understanding of the golf proprietors needs.

Demonstrate an understanding of NLP and use effectively to coach to an outstanding standard.

Some if the specific NLP skills you will require are: - rapport, anchoring and collapsing anchors, effective feedback, goal-setting, understanding the importance of values and beliefs, swish pattern, reframing, persuasion, positioning, hypnosis and self-hypnosis, motivation, decision making strategies all of the NLP change techniques.

What will happen after you have qualified?

Qualifying can mean the WGTF will feature you on our web site knowing that we consider you to be an outstanding coach capable of offering the very best coaching with the very best service and capable of producing outstanding results no matter who is your client. In short your success is guaranteed.