

Level 5; Golf Coach Trainer Franchise

This is for the visionary who knows what they want from the start. This is a complete turn-key operation where you set up your business with a guaranteed location or niche market model. Eventually all WGTF of GB & I training will be conducted by coaches like you.

We believe that any one can attain the skills for training golfers to become golf coaches and natural evolution decrees that when you first start your stage 1 training some will already be thinking they could aspire one day to become the trainer. We are convinced this is how it should be and believe there is every reason why you could not be running your own business training golfers to become golf coaches as soon as your focus on the task.

You could easily be earning upward of 50k just working 5 weeks a year. We supply all the material, a turnkey operation and onsite support during each training, especially during your first five. You can decide to operate a certain area or niche. You may decide to deliver your level 3 on a 1-2-1 bases, setting the investment at whatever level suits your business model, its entirely up to you.

You will attend a minimum of 5 stage 1 & 2 trainings, delivering the last two with supervision and three stage 3 certification trainings delivering the last one. You will also need to have completed you elite training certification both internal and external. You can decide your time frame or even decide to make it a 5 year project building for your future.
